The MASC handheld addresses several driver issues. These include recording the proof of delivery signature, recording customer payments, controlling and reconciling van stock, delivering sales orders and taking customer orders for future dates. In addition, the MASC back office system adds value with in-depth sales reporting and integration to the finance system, EDI, direct debit and production systems for the office and accounting users.

Data preparation for the handhelds is automatically generated by the office server and the drivers can sync the data via the Wi-Fi or mobile networks. The ability to sync remotely is key for many drivers who do not return to base each night. Using MASC will reduce your business operating costs significantly whilst increasing profits and improving cash flow.
